Monday	Read your book for 30 minutes or maybe even longer! Just enjoy it! This will get you a tick on your Reading Bingo sheet!	During this time, you may have lots of thoughts and feelings you might like to share. Poetry is a great way to do this! Click these links for video clips and activities about writing poems. Poetry Poems and questions	Read the poem Dandelion. It is an acrostic style poem. Recreate the same style poem about another plant. Monday English Sheet.	Keep your mental maths sharps with these range of games. Practise against the clock – don't pick the games that are too easy for you! Mental Maths games	Prove me wrong! A maths challenge for you. Follow the instructions and see of you can prove me wrong! Monday Maths Sheet.	In preparation for learning about Early Modern crime and punishments, have a look at this timeline of the Stuart kings and queens. Stuart Timeline	In preparation for learning about Early Modern crime and punishment, look at the one sheet of information about the Stuart kings and queens. Draw a mind map or your own timeline to help you remember facts. Monday History Sheet.	Have a look at the various options on the Anytime Creative Bingo sheet. These are just ideas from school. You may have much better ones! Remember, any inspired work that you are really proud of, email it to me and we can show it off on the school website.
